TAFT VISITS NAVY YARD ON SOUND; CHEERED BY CROWDS

Gay Scenes and Crowds Mark the President's Stay at Seattle.

MAKES TWO SPEECHES

Varies Program to Be at Christening of His Namesake.

TACOMA, Oct. 10.—President Taft varied today the monotony of his long train trip by sailing across Puget Sound from Seattle to the Bremerton navy yard, and from Bremerton to Tacoma. Tonight, the President spoke in the armory here, and tomorrow will leave for southwestern Washington and Oregon. This is his second consecutive "night ashore," but the private car will be occupied again tomorrow.

The President's party was taken to Bremerton in a fast steamboat, and he was met by the Bremerton navy yard, and he was met by the Bremerton navy yard, and he was met by the Bremerton navy yard.

PARADES IN STREETS

At 11 o'clock the President, with a military escort, left the hotel for a parade through the business streets, which were gay with bunting. The escort was composed of a battalion of the Twenty-fifth Infantry, a machine gun platoon from the Twenty-fifth Infantry, two companies of sailors from the cruiser USS Philadelphia, two companies of marines, naval militia and national guard companies. The high schools and the state university dismissed their students, who mingled with the street throngs and made the air ring with cheers.

At noon, the President addressed a great open air meeting on the vacant space at Fourth avenue and Jefferson street, speaking from a platform that had been erected in the center. He spoke for more than half an hour to a demonstrative and sympathetic crowd.

Immediately after the meeting, the President went to the residence of former Secretary of the Interior Richard A. Ballinger, where he ate dinner with the other guests, including less than a dozen. From the home of Ballinger, the President went direct to the harbor front, where a fast steamer was waiting to convey him across Puget Sound to the Puget Sound navy yard at Bremerton, and then to Tacoma.

President Taft, as soon as he learned of the death of former Secretary of the Interior Cornelius N. Bliss, sent the following dispatch to Mrs. Bliss in New York:

(Signed) "WILLIAM H. TAFT." CHRISTENING HELD

The christening of the Showden baby took place in the President's suite in the hotel, immediately after breakfast, and while the parade was forming outside. The Showdens reside at Vancouver, B. C., and the baby is already famous because the mother came to Seattle last summer in order that the boy might be born in America and be eligible to the presidency.

President Taft attended the wedding of his niece, who was Miss Louise Taft, daughter of Henry W. Taft of Connecticut, and has always been greatly attached to her. The baby has been admirably during the christening.

INVESTIGATE GROOM'S DEATH. CHICAGO, Oct. 10.—The death of Adolph Krogh by taking carbolic acid three days after his marriage, is being investigated by the police. By his death, his bride of three days became a widow for the second time in two weeks.

TURKS ARE DRIVEN FROM TRIPOLI AFTER MOONLIGHT BATTLE

Losses Believed Heavy—Italian Army Secretly Sails for the African Coast; Troops Landed

LONDON, Oct. 10.—A dispatch to a London news agency from Paris, says the Turkish torpedo boats Tokat, Hamid Abad, Alpogut and Antallia, while returning from the Ionian Sea were surprised by an Italian squadron near Mytilene October 9th.

A smart engagement followed and three torpedo boats were severely damaged and sunk. The fourth escaped by hoisting a foreign flag.

TRIPOLI, Oct. 10.—The Turks apparently do not intend to abandon Tripoli to the Italians without further resistance. For several days horsemen have been reconnoitering in the vicinity of Italian outposts.

Several times at night they have been discovered by the searchlights of the workshops, and shells have driven them back into the hills.

At 1 o'clock this morning, about 3,000 Turkish troops with field guns were discovered advancing in two columns with the evident intention of recapturing the town. A large body of natives march with the troops and presented a formidable array. The Italian commander, however, had an intimation that such an attempt probably would be made, and his men were prepared.

The Italian guns were well placed, and the Turks were met with a heavy artillery and rifle fire, to which they replied with "equal" energy. It was moonlight, and the fleet turned the searchlights on the contending forces. When the engagement was at its height, the battleships and cruisers joined in with the smaller batteries, directing the shells to cover the Italian front and flank.

For more than an hour the firing on shore was continuous, but about 2 o'clock it ceased. The Turks retired in good order, although it is reported they suffered heavy losses.

Another body of Turks tried to turn the Italian eastern flank, but without success. The Italian casualties were slight.

The fleet pursued the retreating Turks with a heavy shell fire until 6 o'clock in the morning.

ROME, Oct. 10.—The first Italian expeditionary force, which left Naples October 5, was landed at Tobruk, Tripoli, today. It consisted of infantry, artillery and a company of engineers.

According to an undated dispatch printed here, an Italian squadron shelled the fort at Tobruk. Soon after, landing parties from the warships advanced to occupy the fortification, which were fired on by the Turkish forces, took possession of the smoking ruins.

This semi-official announcement is made: "The first contingent of the army corps of occupation, composed of infantry, artillery and one company of engineers, left Naples on the night of the 5th instant, and departed today at Tobruk. They established a post defense after dark."

ARMY ON WAY.

ROME (Via Frontier), Oct. 10.—The greater part of the Italian army expedition is now on the way to Tripoli. This was learned from messages in convention language that escaped the censor. A big contingent, comprising the bulk of the Italian force, sailed from Naples last night, and another fleet of transports left Taranto at sunrise today. More troops will depart from Agosta tonight. These three groups will assemble as one east of Alexandria.

The landing of a whole army corps in Tripoli is looked on as one of the most difficult operations of the war, despite the fact that little fear of an attack by the enemy is entertained.

Foreign Gunboats Protect City of Hankow From Forces.

PEKING, Oct. 11.—News reached this city today that the Chinese revolutionaries have captured Wu Chang, the capital of the province of Hu. Where trouble has been reported for several days. The commander of the troops defending the city was killed by a bomb and the victory escaped only by a narrow flight.

Five foreign gunboats, stationed along the Yangtze River, are protecting the city of Hankow.

HANKOW, China, Oct. 10.—Much firing can be heard this afternoon in the direction of Wuchang. Communication with that city has been cut off. Several large fires are seen. It is evident that the revolutionaries, following the execution of four conspirators at Wuchang today.

Twenty-eight Chinese revolutionaries have been arrested at Wuchang, capital of the province of Hu. Four of them were beheaded in front of the viceregal yamen today. The arrests and executions followed the discovery

Accordingly, every precaution looking to the safety of the troops has been taken. The battleship company covers a moving area one mile wide and five miles long. Within this square, the transports appear secure from any danger except the ever present one of the elements.

Once safely arrived off the Tripolitan coast, it is expected that with a favorable sea, the troops can be landed in two days.

DEMONSTRATE "SPIES."

Several correspondents have been denounced to the courts by the crown prosecutor as guilty of betraying state secrets. Whoever troops are concentrated, spies or alleged spies are arrested. Still, absolute secrecy is impossible. It is known that the fleet carrying troops to Tripoli is made up of sixty steamers which are most transported into military transports.

The larger part of the men were embarked at Taranto and Agosta, and Tripoli furnishing the shortest route. All lights on the transport were extinguished at night and the vessels proceeded in two lines a half a mile apart, being preceded, flanked and followed by battleships and cruisers.

The warships, in turn, are protected on all sides by smaller but faster craft.

According to advices from Constantinople, it appears that Turkey desired to have a Christian in the post of foreign minister and urged general Armenians successively to accept the offer.

LOCALIZING HOSTILITIES. BERLIN, Oct. 10.—Although Germany finds that the time is not ripe for an offer of mediation, it did not leave Turkey and Italy pending the completion of Italian occupation of Tripoli, the government is endeavoring further to localize the hostilities and prevent fighting in the Red, Aegean and Adriatic seas.

If Turkey will give assurances that she will not interfere in the transport of the expedition to Tripoli, there is hope that all other hostilities will be suspended.

The landing of the Italian expedition is said to present difficulties not anticipated. The weather on the Tripolitan coast has interfered and it will be at least a week probably before Italy is ready to treat with Turkey.

It is learned in diplomatic circles that Italy probably is willing to indemnify Turkey to the extent of about $12,000,000, but it is a question whether she is still willing to recognize Turkish sovereignty over Tripoli in any form.

TURKEY CONCILIATORY. LONDON, Oct. 10.—A correspondent of the Chronicle at Constantinople telegraphs that the Turkish government to the powers was conciliatory in tone, that Germany has decided with the other governments to renew her approaches at Rome for an understanding.

Reports from Benghazi that two Italian cruisers were destroyed and from Derna that two Italian torpedo boat destroyers has been blown up by mines have not been confirmed.

TURKS FASHIONED.

LONDON, Oct. 10.—A news despatch from Rome says the Turkish troops who retreated to the interior when Tripoli was bombarded have been obliged to open negotiations for their surrender, owing to the failure of their supplies.

MOVE AGAINST ITALIANS. CONSTANTINOPLE, Oct. 10.—At a cabinet council today it was decided to close all Italian industrial, financial and scholastic establishments in Turkey and to seize Italian steamers.

ROYALISTS BEAT OFF REPUBLICANS

With Better Position, Defy Portuguese Troops; Latter Retire.

LISBON, Oct. 10.—(Via Frontier)—The royalists entrenched near the Guadiana frontier were attacked by the republicans yesterday. They responded with a hot fire from behind rocks and wooded heights, compelling the government troops to retire. The royalists had a great advantage in their positions in natural and artificial caves, which protected them from shells.

A revolutionary plot in the Russian concessions here. A bomb was exploded, whereupon a search revealed a factory for the manufacture of explosives and a plan for an attack upon the city.

Chinese gunboats are patrolling the harbor.

A message from Chung King says that the leaders of the movement in protest against the government plan of building railways with foreign capital are protesting the mission in the districts where rebels are operating.

SAINTA FE HELPING? SAN BERNARDINO, Cal., Oct. 10.—Orders that the gates of the Santa Fe railroad yards here be closed and guarded day and night, were issued today by officials of that company.

This precaution was taken to avoid possible molestation of the Santa Fe property and of the Salt Lake engines undergoing repairs in its shops. No person is admitted to enter the stockades without the written permission of proper officials. Extra guards have been placed on duty and the yards are being constantly patrolled.

GET ARMED GUARDS. SEDALIA, Mo., Oct. 10.—Armed guards employed to protect striking miners, filling the place of striking miners, Kansas and Texas railroad carmen arrived today. The employment of the guards was caused by an assault on an inspector by an alleged strike sympathizer.

EXPECT STRIKE TO END SOON, SAY OFFICIALS IN EAST

Situation Largely Quiet; Santa Fe Acts Under Cover in South.

SYMPATHETIC STRIKE?

Is Suggested By Oakland Secretary, But Nothing Decided Yet.

CHICAGO, Oct. 10.—President Markham of the Illinois Central Railroad returned today from Jackson, Miss., where he had a conference with Governor Noel and strikers yesterday. He said that he expected the strike to end soon.

His views were shared by Vice President Park, who said the men were beginning to realize that the company intends to stand firmly in the position it has taken.

Satisfactory conditions all along the line were reported by the officials. Two hundred non-union machinists from eastern cities arrived at the Burnside shops of the Illinois Central today and were assigned to work.

Strikers stood in groups outside the fence surrounding the plant and quietly watched the strike breakers march into the shops, guarded by police and railroad detectives. There was no attempt at a demonstration.

There are now more than 1,000 shopmen at work in the Burnside plant or nearly one-third of the regular force.

Crowds of men who gathered on the streets at Burnside were asked to disperse today by members of the unions, who said that the strikers would retaliate if any trouble should result.

QUIET ON COAST. SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 10.—Quiet prevailed in railroad circles here today. Picketing continues at the Mission Bay shops of the Southern Pacific Company, but the number of pickets has been reduced to a few.

President E. L. Requin, of the Shopmen's Federation, called on Police Commissioner Sullivan today in order to complain of the employment of armed men by the Southern Pacific. He asserted that strike breakers were given all the privileges of the regular railroad police. Sullivan replied that he would have the chief of police investigate with a view to disarming the men carrying guns without permits.

Nothing was done regarding Requin's suggestion that strikers be made special officers to preserve peace outside the fences.

TO PAY STRIKERS. OAKLAND, Oct. 10.—Pay checks for the striking employees of the Southern Pacific railroad who walked out more than a week ago will once more be offered at the West Oakland yards and the men may call for them next Thursday.

Reports were made today in the yard offices to the effect that more employees had been severely beaten by pickets. Last night and the night preceding, two car repairers were attacked and severely beaten while on their way to work in the vicinity of the yards. A turn table boy and another employee were each attacked and beaten by a gang of fifteen or more men last night. Officials of the road say they are perfectly able to handle the situation.

The striking shopmen held a meeting this morning at which various leaders addressed them, claiming that the men would ultimately win in their struggle.

SYMPATHETIC STRIKE? PORTLAND, Oct. 10.—Secretary David Kelly of the Oakland branch of the Federation, has telegraphed the Portland advisory board, asking advice in the matter of instituting a sympathetic strike to involve all union classes of railroad workers.

The local committee here has not yet replied to the communication. It is said, and will thoroughly canvass the situation before doing so.

The railroad companies report that twenty-six additional skilled workmen were sent to work in the local shops today.

SANTA FE HELPING? SAN BERNARDINO, Cal., Oct. 10.—Orders that the gates of the Santa Fe railroad yards here be closed and guarded day and night, were issued today by officials of that company.

This precaution was taken to avoid possible molestation of the Santa Fe property and of the Salt Lake engines undergoing repairs in its shops. No person is admitted to enter the stockades without the written permission of proper officials. Extra guards have been placed on duty and the yards are being constantly patrolled.

GET ARMED GUARDS. SEDALIA, Mo., Oct. 10.—Armed guards employed to protect striking miners, filling the place of striking miners, Kansas and Texas railroad carmen arrived today. The employment of the guards was caused by an assault on an inspector by an alleged strike sympathizer.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 10.—Lieut. Benjamin A. Foulois, the army aviator, was operated on for appendicitis today.

THREE R.R. COMMISSION AMENDMENTS CARRY EASILY, IS INDICATION

Equal Suffrage Amendment, After Running Much Behind, Given New Life by Back Counties; Suffrage Leaders Express Hope of Victory.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 11.—Tabulation of the constitutional amendment election held in this state yesterday indicated at 1:30 o'clock this morning that the women suffrage provision, previously conceded to have been beaten, was making a close run. Complete returns from 1367 precincts out of the 3120 in the state gave 60,968 in favor, 63,589 against. This showed such a decided change, due principally to the back county vote, that the suffragists claimed that the amendment had carried.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 11.—Complete returns from 1367 out of the 3120 precincts in the state gave at 1:30 tonight:

Amendment No. 4, woman suffrage, 60,968 for; against, 63,589.
Amendment No. 7, initiative and referendum, for 85,746; against, 27,747.
Amendment No. 8, recall, for 90,367; against, 28,728.
Amendment No. 16, railroad commission, for 67,671; against, 39,625.

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 10.—Returns received by the Union from 162 precincts in 18 counties in the Sacramento valley and Sierra mountains give: No. 4, for 6227; against, 5231.
Twenty-four precincts out of 54 in Sacramento county give: No. 4, for 1623; against, 1540.

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 11.—2 a. m.—Complete unofficial returns from Los Angeles city give 15,472 votes for Amendment No. 4 and 13,695 against. Returns from all but a few minor precincts in outlying districts show that Los Angeles county favored the amendment by about 3300 majority.

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 11.—At their present ratio of six to the precinct, the 578 precincts yet unreported in the Sacramento valley and neighboring counties will add 3468 net to the present suffragist majorities.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 10.—Returns from today's constitutional amendment election received up to 11:30 p. m. confirm earlier indications that woman suffrage has been possibly defeated, and that the initiative and referendum and the recall, which includes the judiciary, have on the other hand received a most emphatic endorsement by the voters of the state. The enlargement of the powers of the state railroad commission will also undoubtedly carry, though by a smaller majority.

The vote in favor of placing in the hands of the electors the power of recalling its public officials, including the judges on the bench, was somewhat amazing, even to the friends of that proposed constitutional amendment. San Francisco, which voted almost two to one against woman suffrage; voted more than four to one in favor of the recall, while the vote for the initiative and referendum was almost equally as large.

With one-third of the state heard from, the vote stood:
For woman suffrage, 37,170; against, 44,659.
Initiative and referendum, for 50,651; against, 17,391.
Recall, for 52,997; against, 17,904.
Appointive railroad commission, for 39,821; against, 22,334.

Despite unfavorable returns, the suffragist leaders here did not give up hope. They remained at headquarters until after midnight, checking up returns. Leaders of the State Suffrage Association could not be located, but the College Equal Suffrage League issued the following statement after midnight:

"The fate of the women suffrage amendment is still in doubt. If the final returns shall show defeat at this election, they will only mark the beginning of a new campaign which will end in victory."

Confidence is expressed, however, that the total vote will be favorable to that amendment.

Stockton gives the amendment a lead of 15 votes.

HOME PRECINCT OF SENATOR SANFORD IS FOR SUFFRAGE

UKIAH, Oct. 10.—Precinct No. 2, the home precinct of State Senator John B. Sanford, one of the leading opponents of women's suffrage during the campaign, gave a majority of eighteen in favor of that amendment.

ERROR IS FOUND IN LOS ANGELES BALLOT

Believed Won't Invalidate Vote; Are Correct Elsewhere.

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 10.—All the ballots in precinct 110, one of the most populous apartment house districts in Los Angeles, were found to contain an error which may throw out at least 1,000 votes. The error was made in the numbering of the Senate resolution on which amendment No. 10 was based. If all the ballots contain the same error, the results of the entire election may be called into question.

Amendment No. 10, the section of the ballot containing the error, is intended to enable the legislature to enact laws specifically rendering employers liable for injuries to workmen and doing away with the fellow servant defense.

The error was detected by an election inspector at the booth in precinct 110. On the ballot amendment No. 10 read "Senate constitutional amendment No. 10."

It should have been "Senate Constitutional No. 22."

Some election officials were of the opinion that if the error was contained in all the official ballots, it would invalidate the entire vote. They were sure that all ballots containing the error would be invalid at all events.

But others awaited an official opinion and campaign committees representing woman suffragists and the advocates of the initiative and referendum and recall hurried about searching for District Attorney Fredericks to procure an official opinion, while others hurried to other precincts to learn approximately how many ballots were erroneous.

THINK WON'T INVALIDATE. District Attorney Fredericks was not at his office during the morning hours and no official opinion as to the validity of the votes was procured before noon.

"The ballots were printed by the county. Shortly after noon the county clerk and Deputy District Attorney Arthur Keesh issued a statement declaring the error in the numbering of the Senate amendment No. 10 would not invalidate the vote."

Instructions were given to the election boards to prevent confusion in counting the votes which, owing to the error, makes the ballot show two amendments No. 10, one in proposition No. 9 and one in proposition No. 10.

UP TO COUNTY. SACRAMENTO, Oct. 10.—Chief Clerk Alexander of the state printing office said today that each county in the state had printed its own ballots and that the state printing office had nothing to do with the mistake at Los Angeles. The state printing office did, as a matter of courtesy, print about 500 sample ballots as courtesy to the secretary of state, but the sample ballots furnished by the secretary of state were correct.

CORRECT ELSEWHERE. SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 10.—No errors were discovered in the ballots used in today's election in the Bay counties, and reports from Bakersfield, San Diego, Stockton and other points said no imperfections in the ballots employed in those places had been found.

POLICE OUT TO QUELL SUFFRAGETTE WORKERS

Get Too Militant in Fashionable Sections of Los Angeles.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Oct. 10.—Women suffragists became so militant in their electioneering methods in the fashionable west end and university districts of the city today that Captain J. J. Bradish, commanding the university police station, sent out squads of patrolmen with instructions to arrest the women poll workers.

Bradish declared he sent out the extra police because the regular men, posted one at each of the various polling booths, had reported that they were being overwhelmed by the suffragist electioneering corps.

The women, Bradish said, would escort voters into the polling booths in violation of the law prohibiting election workers from approaching within less than 100 feet of the voting places.

When his men remonstrated with the eager voters, the women brushed aside the men, declaring it was "just like men to try to prevent women from winning the ballot."

MEXICO, Mo., Oct. 10.—A jury in the probate court here, according to a verdict filed today, decided that it was unlawful for a doctor, who is also a preacher, to charge for preaching his patient's funeral, if he dies. Dr. P. M. Shoush, attended Mrs. Susan Parks during her illness. When she died he preached the funeral. Then he made out a statement of his services, which contained the item $10 for "preaching the funeral." A. S. Pauls, administrator of the estate, objected to the charge and Judge W. W. Bette of the probate court, called in a jury to decide the question. The jury deducted the $10 from the bill.

Light Vote Is Cast All Over the South

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 10.—Total vote registered 78,000; about 40,000 cast. In Pasadena, the next largest city of Los Angeles county, half of a total registration of 40,000 votes was cast.

EL CENTRO, Oct. 10.—Approximately 1200 votes were cast in Imperial county.

VENTURA, Cal., Oct. 10.—An exceedingly light vote was cast throughout the county.

BISHOP, Oct. 10.—Inyo county will cast a surprisingly light vote for all the constitutional amendments. Little opposition to any of them.

BAKERSFIELD, Oct. 10.—The vote in Kern county on the constitutional amendments was very light according to all reports. It is estimated that less than 25 per cent of the registered voters cast their ballots.

SAN DIEGO, Oct. 10.—From the few returns received up to 9 p. m. indications are that the vote was very light, probably less than 50 per cent.

BIG 'QUAKE FELT; DAMAGE FEARED

Disturbance of Destructive Force in the South Is Indicated.

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 10.—An earthquake of considerable intensity, probably in or near Ecuador, was recorded this morning on the seismograph at Loyola University.

Today's shock began at 7:15 a. m. and continued until 8:25. This disturbance following so closely the more severe shock recorded last Friday accentuated fears that the South American republics have suffered severe damages.

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 10.—Earthquakes beginning at 7:18:03 and ending at 8:00:00 this morning were recorded by the seismograph at St. Louis University. The main wave passed under St. Louis at 7:24:37, the period being of 17 seconds duration. Rev. John P. Gossie, in charge of the instrument, from calculation, places the disturbance at 1,800 miles from this city, in a southeasterly direction. He believes the earthquake will be found to have been severe in Hayti.

SAN JOSE, Oct. 10.—The Hearst seismograph instruments at Lick Observatory recorded an earthquake beginning at 8:30 this morning and continuing nearly 21 minutes. Only the north and south instrument showed the markings, indicating that the disturbance was in the south. The duration of the preliminary tremor was three minutes; that of the longer record of earthquake motion by the seismograph was three minutes. The disturbance was at least 1,000 miles to the south and probably two or three thousand.

OAKLAND, Oct. 10.—The seismograph at Chabot observatory has no record of early morning earthquakes in the east. The seismograph at the University of California observatory, records the quake.

UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA, Oct. 10.—A distant earthquake was registered by the seismograph of the university early this morning. Owing to the relatively small energy of the quake the times of beginning of the usual preliminary phases are not distinguishable with any certainty and for this reason no reliable estimate of the distance or direction can be given.

Motion began at 5:30 a. m. and continued until 5:30 o'clock this morning. The chief phase or "strong motion" began about 5:35 a. m. and lasted until about 5:40 a. m. Though the distance of the origin cannot be determined with any precision, it is estimated at 2500 miles and is probably much more, possibly as great as 5,000.

NEW YORK, Oct. 10.—An earthquake probably not more than 1,000 miles distant and of considerable magnitude, was registered today on the seismograph at Brooklyn College. The record began at 8:19 and continued until 8:53 with the maximum disturbance at 8:22. The strongest movement was in the north and south direction. The disturbance was considerably more severe than that recorded by last week's shock in Hayti.

SEATTLE, Wash., Oct. 10.—A very distinct though distant earthquake shock was recorded by the seismograph of the University of Washington this morning, beginning at 5:20 o'clock. The needle traced a course an inch wide.

ACID IS HURLED IN GIRL'S FACE

Fiend Escapes After He Has Disfigured His Victim for Life.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 10.—Hurling a ball of cotton saturated with carbolic acid full in the face of Hazel Anderson, 17 years old, an unidentified man jumped down the steps of the girl's residence in the Mission today and escaped. One of Miss Anderson's eyes was injured and her face was badly burned.

The girl had answered the door bell and was trying to unfuse a chain holding the door when a man's hand was extended through the crack and the acid thrown.

Miss Anderson's screams summoned members of the household, but by the time the door could be opened the miscreant had vanished.

Physicians say the girl may lose the sight of her injured eye and that she probably will be badly disfigured.

The police so far have been unable to find any clue to the assailant. The girl's foster parents have recalled that stones were thrown against the house early today and that they think the stone-thrower is the same person who hurled the acid.

The assault in many respects is similar to that perpetrated on Ruth Wilson, a Lowell high school girl, about a year ago. In that case, too, the assailant escaped, leaving but slight traces.

Woman's Happiness

The highest point of woman's happiness is reached only through motherhood, in the clasping of her child within her arms. Yet the mother-to-be is often fearful of nature's ordeal and shrinks from the suffering incident to its consummation. But for nature's ills and discomforts, nature provides remedies, and in Mother's Friend is to be found a medicine of great value to every expectant mother. It is an oily emulsion for external application, composed of ingredients which act with beneficial and soothing effect on those portions of the system involved. It is intended to prepare the system for the crisis, and thus relieve, in great part, the suffering through which the mother usually passes. The regular use of Mother's Friend will repay any mother in the comfort it affords before, and the helpful restoration to health and strength it brings about after baby comes.

Mother's Friend is for sale at drug stores.

Write for our free book for expectant mothers which contains much valuable information, and many suggestions of a helpful nature.

SELMA SCHOOLS SHOW RECORD ATTENDANCE

Average for Month Is 532; Total Attendance This Year Is 579.

SELMA, Oct. 10.—An unusual record for grammar school attendance is presented in the report of the Selma grammar schools for the month of this term. The total number of pupils registered in the grammar grades of the schools this term is 579. Of this entire number there were only five tardy marks during the entire month. The total average attendance for the month is 532, the total being brought down by the fact that many of the pupils did not enter school until the second and even the third week.

All of the tardy marks are in the second and fourth grades.

A new feature will be added to the grammar school play grounds this year. The boys are to have two giant strides, and two trapeze bars. It is planned to add to this equipment just as fast as possible and thus enable the features of an ideal school ground with a model play ground for children in vacation time and on days when school is not in session.

COALINGA LUNCHEON TALKS IRRIGATION

COALINGA, Oct. 10.—As special guests today at the Chamber of Commerce luncheon were Vice-President McCormick, General Passenger Agent H. J. Kalamang, Jr., E. K. Fowler and J. E. Nixon and John Philip Sousa, the band director and composer. S. A. Gullerson, Jr., was chairman and upon motion C. A. Hively, superintendent of the K. T. & O. was elected to serve at the luncheon.

The luncheon was an largely attended as the one last week when Congressman J. C. Needham was the guest. Irrigation was the main topic of discussion.

Mr. McCormick expressed surprise to go Coalinga such a thrifty city and that practically all the business men are under middle age. He commended the community on the smoothness in which the business and industries seem to be handled and in speaking on the irrigation project that seems to be the slogan he stated that the railroad company would be ready and willing at any time to furnish the committee with or add it in securing information on the subject of irrigation.

Mr. McCormick dwelt briefly on the irrigation question and R. L. Peeler briefly outlined the intention of the Chamber of Commerce on the irrigation project, stating that the committee was conducting a survey of the thought of impounding the floodwaters on the east side of the San Joaquin valley at the American river and other points, and decided to devote its entire time to the West Side.

A letter written by Congressman Needham, whom Mr. McCormick read stating that he had written for the engineers of the reclamation service to look over the territories affected by the proposed irrigation project.

He also stated that he had taken up the matter of mail service and commended Miss Hefton on her manner of conducting the local office. Upon motion the secretary was instructed to correspond with the Congressman thanking him for the interest he had taken in the affairs of Coalinga.

FEARON BRINGS SUIT FOR COALINGA LAND

He Charges Fraudulent Deeding in Pursuance of a Conspiracy.

Joseph Fearon of Coalinga is in court today over 160 acres of oil land in the 24th section 6-20-15, near the oil town, in ownership of which he says he has been continuously since December, 1898. The papers in the suit were presented yesterday by Maxson, McCoskey, all holding as asserted under claims derived from the Foderas. Fearon asks that he be declared the absolute owner, that the defendants be held to have no interest and that their title be declared fraudulent, also to quiet title in favor of the plaintiff and that he be awarded $1000 damages.

Fearon charges that the Foderas, Bauer, Tognazzini and Shawhan conspired to encumber and obtain possession of the property and that in pursuance of the conspiracy the Foderas fraudulently represented that they owned the property and had valid claims on it.

In June, 1910, it is alleged, the Foderas and Bauer decided to Tognazzini and Shawhan, and Bauer witnessed the signature of the Foderas to the instrument and went before a notary to acknowledge the signatures. This deed was recorded on October 10, 1910, and has ever since constituted a cloud on Fearon's title and appreciated the value of his interest in the sum of $1000. De Long and the M. K. & T. Oil Company claim under the Foderas conveyance and the bank has a money interest in the property.

SCHOOL LAND SOLD FOR TAXES UNPAID

Reedley school district, which is a joint one, located partly in this county and in Tulare, has applied to the supervisors to cancel an erroneous assessment on lot 10 of Reed colony. The district came by the land by deed of conveyance on the 12th of February, 1905, notwithstanding which it was assessed for taxes for that year and going delinquent was sold to the state for unpaid taxes. Being used for the public and acquired for school purposes, the land is exempt from taxation, and for that reason the cancellation is sought.

STORE BURNED IN M'KITTRICK FIELD

M'KITTRICK, Oct. 10.—Fire, the origin of which is not known, on Sunday night, at 9 o'clock, destroyed the grocery store owned by Morgan Bros., and located at Olig, two and one-half miles from M'Kittrick. When the flames were discovered, flames were spread throughout the building and it was impossible to save any of the contents.

The fire communicated to the residences of Mrs. Morgan, a few feet distant, and this was also reduced to ashes, together with the house occupied by the employees of the Associated Oil Company.

Furniture in both residences was saved through energetic work on the part of men from the various leases in the North M'Kittrick field. The losses of Morgan Bros. are partly covered by insurance. The stock of goods was quite large and in addition the firm lost everything in the pool room connected with the store.

COALINGA LUNCHEON TALKS IRRIGATION

Congressman Needham Is Thanked for His Interest in the West Side.

COALINGA, Oct. 10.—As special guests today at the Chamber of Commerce luncheon were Vice-President McCormick, General Passenger Agent H. J. Kalamang, Jr., E. K. Fowler and J. E. Nixon and John Philip Sousa, the band director and composer. S. A. Gullerson, Jr., was chairman and upon motion C. A. Hively, superintendent of the K. T. & O. was elected to serve at the luncheon.

The luncheon was an largely attended as the one last week when Congressman J. C. Needham was the guest. Irrigation was the main topic of discussion.

Mr. McCormick expressed surprise to go Coalinga such a thrifty city and that practically all the business men are under middle age. He commended the community on the smoothness in which the business and industries seem to be handled and in speaking on the irrigation project that seems to be the slogan he stated that the railroad company would be ready and willing at any time to furnish the committee with or add it in securing information on the subject of irrigation.

Mr. McCormick dwelt briefly on the irrigation question and R. L. Peeler briefly outlined the intention of the Chamber of Commerce on the irrigation project, stating that the committee was conducting a survey of the thought of impounding the floodwaters on the east side of the San Joaquin valley at the American river and other points, and decided to devote its entire time to the West Side.

A letter written by Congressman Needham, whom Mr. McCormick read stating that he had written for the engineers of the reclamation service to look over the territories affected by the proposed irrigation project.

He also stated that he had taken up the matter of mail service and commended Miss Hefton on her manner of conducting the local office. Upon motion the secretary was instructed to correspond with the Congressman thanking him for the interest he had taken in the affairs of Coalinga.

FEARON BRINGS SUIT FOR COALINGA LAND

He Charges Fraudulent Deeding in Pursuance of a Conspiracy.

Joseph Fearon of Coalinga is in court today over 160 acres of oil land in the 24th section 6-20-15, near the oil town, in ownership of which he says he has been continuously since December, 1898. The papers in the suit were presented yesterday by Maxson, McCoskey, all holding as asserted under claims derived from the Foderas. Fearon asks that he be declared the absolute owner, that the defendants be held to have no interest and that their title be declared fraudulent, also to quiet title in favor of the plaintiff and that he be awarded $1000 damages.

Fearon charges that the Foderas, Bauer, Tognazzini and Shawhan conspired to encumber and obtain possession of the property and that in pursuance of the conspiracy the Foderas fraudulently represented that they owned the property and had valid claims on it.

In June, 1910, it is alleged, the Foderas and Bauer decided to Tognazzini and Shawhan, and Bauer witnessed the signature of the Foderas to the instrument and went before a notary to acknowledge the signatures.

This deed was recorded on October 10, 1910, and has ever since constituted a cloud on Fearon's title and appreciated the value of his interest in the sum of $1000. De Long and the M. K. & T. Oil Company claim under the Foderas conveyance and the bank has a money interest in the property.

SCHOOL LAND SOLD FOR TAXES UNPAID

Reedley school district, which is a joint one, located partly in this county and in Tulare, has applied to the supervisors to cancel an erroneous assessment on lot 10 of Reed colony. The district came by the land by deed of conveyance on the 12th of February, 1905, notwithstanding which it was assessed for taxes for that year and going delinquent was sold to the state for unpaid taxes. Being used for the public and acquired for school purposes, the land is exempt from taxation, and for that reason the cancellation is sought.

SANGER CANNOT VOTE BEFORE NEXT APRIL

Liquor License Question Is Set at Rest Until Spring Town Election.

The practical effect of the decision of Judge Austin on the demurrer to the petition for a mandamus against City Clerk McLaughlin of Sanger is that the people of the town cannot hold an election on the question of licensing the liquor traffic in the town until the city election to be held in April next.

The decision of Judge Austin did not touch upon the question whether the city clerk was the right or wrong in his refusal to certify as legally sufficient the petition by 115 town residents asking to call such an election. It was simply to hold that mandamus was not the proper remedy to pursue, because mandamus will not be granted to compel the performance of an act or duty in a specific manner. According to Judge Austin's statement of his decision, the remedy should have been in a writ of review of the clerk's action, because after all the question whether the petition with 115 signatures of Sanger town residents is under the law representative of 25 percent of the registered vote of the territory is a simple matter of computation and verification.

Judge Austin says that a writ of review will not at this time benefit the Sanger case in bringing on an election, because under the Wylie law a special election will not be held where a general election falls due within the period of six months. The next general election is in November, 1912, and the month of April, 1912, is beyond the period of six months. The city election in April next comes within the time limit.

Judge Austin does not look for an appeal from his decision on the mandamus petition demurrer because nothing absolutely would be gained by such appeal on the matter of the election.

The writ of review to overcome the city clerk's refusal to certify as valid to a future petition, but as before stated the liquor question itself in Sanger cannot be brought to a vote before the April town election.

ELECTION RESULTS

Returns from the state at midnight indicated the defeat of women suffrage, not, as early San Francisco estimates put it, by an "overwhelming" majority, but probably by a moderate majority. Later news indicates that late returns from the country, which is generally favorable, may change the result. The other important amendments, for direct legislation, the recall, and the enlargement of the powers of the railroad commission, are carried by majorities absolutely overwhelming. State returns on the other amendments will not be available until tomorrow, but returns from Fresno county indicate the defeat of amendments 19 and 22, both of which ought to have been defeated, and the success of all the rest. Amendment 18, however, against which the enlisted justices of the peace have concentrated their efforts, has apparently carried Fresno county by only a bare majority. That may indicate its defeat in the state, as Fresno county was one of the few places in which the eleventh-hour roadblock against this amendment was met, in time for denial.

Altogether, the vote is very encouragingly intelligent. While the vote is described as "light" over most of the state, it is many times the number ever brought out at the most hotly contested bond election, and is more than was ever induced to vote on the amendments even when the personal contests of a general election brought a larger number to the polls. In fact, yesterday's election was the fullest and most intelligent expression ever given by the people of California on any issue of importance. It was not a complete vote, it was at least the vote of the intelligently interested. And, next to government by the vote of all the people (perhaps ahead of it) government by the vote of the intelligently interested, with the assistance of the remainder, is the best form of popular government there is.

Analysis of the vote of Fresno county, the only one on which detailed returns on all the amendments are now available, indicates an intelligence and discrimination of vote which is more than encouraging to the friends of direct legislation. Here was the referendum in its worst possible form. There were twenty-three propositions submitted, which is five times too many. Only two or three of them were submitted because anybody asked to have them submitted, and there were only six in which anybody was interested enough even to make a campaign in regard to them. In other words, the ballot was four or five times as long and complicated as any such ballot ever would be if it were submitted by the initiative of the people themselves, and it contained many technical propositions of a sort which would never be submitted by petition. In addition, the form of the ballot was itself so unintelligible that no man on earth could tell, by a mere reading of the ballot, what propositions he was voting on. The most malicious cynic could not have devised a harder or unfairer test of the ability of the people to vote discriminatively on abstract legislative propositions—and the people rose open to this test.

In the first place, they voted, clear down the line. On a personal ballot, the candidate at the top of the column has a great advantage. Many voters lack the courage or the patience to vote the ballot through. But the sort of voters who voted at this election finished the job. On the count at this writing, 3,881 Fresno voters voted on amendment No. 1, and 3,538, only 163 less, voted on No. 23. There were perhaps two hundred more votes cast on important than on unimportant amendments, and four or five hundred more on women suffrage—which is intelligent discrimination.

Five or six hundred voters opposed the amendments on general principles, either because of opposition to direct legislation, or lack of confidence in the administration, or the general principle of "when in doubt vote No." For instance, on the midnight partial count, there were 559 votes against the text-book amendment and 621 against the courts of appeal amendment. Both of these are purely formal, though necessary amendments, against which there is no argument at all. There was no specific opposition to them by anybody, and therefore the vote against them may be taken to represent the opposition merely on general principles of the constitutional "anti."

The stubborn stupidity of such people is one of the balance-wheels of society, and it is therefore encouraging to see them vote consistently their lack of opinion. All the other amendments received a larger negative vote, and the excess in each case indicates the amount of discriminating opposition. The two amendments defeated were both bad or doubtful, and though they were of minor importance, the people exercised enough discrimination to pick them out for defeat. Of the others, the only ones which received over 1,000 negative votes, on the midnight partial count, were No. 2, (county charters); No. 2 (divided session); No. 4 (women suffrage); No. 10 (employers' liability); No. 18 (justice's courts); and No. 20 (chief of the Supreme Court) and there were intelligent and substantial arguments against all of these except the last, (making the office of clerk of the Supreme Court appointive). There may have been intelligent opposition even to this, not for itself, but because it is known to be the first step in a short-ballot program, to the anticipated later steps of which some voters are opposed. Or the large negative vote in this case may have been due to the mere accident that this amendment was the one least intelligently printed on the ballot. At any rate, in each of the other cases the increased negative vote was due to the actual disputability of the proposition. The majority voted right on every proposition (omitting women suffrage) and the largest majorities were for the most indisputably meritorious propositions.

On the major amendments the result constitutes a vindication of Governor Johnson which is absolutely stunning. All the ancient entrenched forces, which it took almost superhuman effort to dislodge only a year ago are now so dead or scattered that they have become negligible. Whatever the future may bring forth, the present fact is that the old machine is dead, damned, buried and forgotten, and that Hiram W. Johnson, the "demagogue," the "hewling agitator" of a year ago, is the most popular man, the most successful leader, and the most efficient constructive statesman that there is or ever was in California. The recall amendment, for instance, is in a peculiarly personal sense a Johnson policy. To deny that there can be logical arguments against its application to the judiciary would be to deny the intelligence of the undoubtedly intelligent men who oppose it. And there was very formidable opposition indeed, led by the President of the United States, aided by the leaders of the State Bar Association and some of the most widely circulated newspapers in California. To have not only overcome, but demolished that opposition, until there was not even a "fizzle" left of it, and that on an intelligently debated issue, is the biggest personal triumph ever achieved in California, or so far as we know, in any American state. It demonstrates in Governor Johnson powers of popular leadership unrivaled among the present generation of American public men, and equaled only by Roosevelt at the zenith of his popularity.

And, aside from this personal aspect of it, the overwhelming endorsement of the policies themselves, the initiative, referendum and recall, puts California by practically unanimous vote in the Progressive ranks. Those of us who thought that the Progressive movement in California was stronger, in its opposition to the old conditions and in its confidence in the new personal leaders, than it was on the positive Progressive policies of legislation are now proved to have been mistaken. California is Progressive on policies, too, and that by an almost unanimous vote.

The absolutely latest returns, received since the writing of this editorial commenced, indicate that the women suffrage amendment is at least doubtful, with a good chance of success. The San Francisco Call and the Sacramento Union both claiming it has carried. It is to be hoped from every possible point of view that the final count may be favorable. Ordinarily, if of important question of social policy is to be settled by a close vote, it is better that the vote be negative. If a "wet" and "dry" election, for instance, is close, it is better that it go "wet" than "dry." But women suffrage is the exception, in the first place, because it is self-enforcing and permanent, even if carried by only one vote, and in the second place because if the vote is close the final adoption of the policy is inevitable, with constant agitation until it is adopted, and so it would be better and less troublesome to adopt it at once.

However, reserving comment on the result, until the result is known, there are some curious paradoxes in the distribution of the vote. Taking the state over, it is evident that the home districts have gone by a large majority for suffrage, and if it is doubtful or defeated, it is by the vote of the bachelor precincts. And yet the only respectable consideration against women suffrage is the feeling that "the place for a woman is at home," and that the home woman is already represented. In fact, the only reasons for giving the ballot to the home-keeping, middle-class women are considerations of logic, justice and sentiment. Practically, they are getting on very well without it. But the men who represent this class of women have voted by a large majority to give them the voting franchise. The women, on the other hand, to whom the vote is really of practical importance, and who will not be represented in government unless they represent themselves, are denied that needed right, if it is denied by the votes of the very districts in which they live and work, and by the men of their own class and neighborhood. It is illogical and unjust.

Reports from Washington are that the National Republican committee will issue orders for district primaries, in those states whose laws provide a different system. The national committee will do well to move carefully in setting up its instructions as against state laws. If a state like Oregon or Kansas (and we hope by that time California) sends a delegation elected and instructed at a state-wide primary, held under the safeguards of law, the national convention would be risking a great deal in refusing to admit that delegation. And the national committee would risk still more if it undertook to hold informal primaries with no legal safeguards, with the idea of choosing delegates to contest the places of those elected by law. The legal regulation of party primaries has come to stay, and must be accepted by all parties.

HONEYMOON IS CUT SHORT BY ARREST

Seison of Canadian Family Accused of Forging Many Drafts.

SALT LAKE CITY, Oct. 10.—The honeymoon of J. W. Hill, alleged seison of an influential Canadian family who arrived here last week from Los Angeles for his marriage to Miss Mary Sweeney of that city, was suddenly interrupted by secret service operatives at Tooele, Utah, today, just as Hill and his bride were about to board a train for the east. Presenting warrants charging forgery and the uttering of fraudulent drafts on the Union Bank of Winnipeg, Man., the detectives after allowing Hill to bid his wife a tearful farewell, brought him to this city, where he was lodged in jail to await an order for his extradition, which it is expected will be forwarded from Los Angeles within the next few days. Hill began his operations nearly six weeks ago in New York, according to the officers, who claim to have followed his movements. He was successful in cashing drafts in a New York bank, and he disappeared suddenly, being next heard from on the Pacific coast. Another draft for $5000, purporting to show funds in the Union Bank of Winnipeg, was presented by Hill in Los Angeles, it is alleged. Shortly after executing this coup, he is said to have made arrangements for his sudden departure.

He arrived at Tooele early last week and on Thursday last was married to Miss Sweeney.

COLORADO FLOOD NOT SERIOUS AS FEARED

Railroad Loss, However, Roughly Placed at One Million.

DENVER, Oct. 10.—With communication with the principal towns in the flood-swept districts of southeastern Colorado and northwestern New Mexico re-established today, it became apparent that the damage will not be as heavy as expected. None of the principal towns reports serious loss, and advisers reaching them from outside points minimize destruction in the ranch country. The Rio Grande southern railway has suffered heavy damage, many miles of track having been destroyed. Rough estimates place the railroad loss at approximately $1,000,000.

Ramona, heavy loss of life were apparently set at rest today. The report of the drowning of twenty navajo Indians at the Shiprock agency in New Mexico were officially denied today when communication was established with that point.

BLAINE BACKS UP ON STEPHENSON

Admits Has No Direct Evidence of Corrupt Election Work.

MILWAUKEE, Oct. 10.—Charges that United States Senator Isaac Stephenson of Wisconsin secured his election through bribery and that he spent $107,793 corruptly to influence voters were today put by the United States investigation committee squarely up to John J. Blaine, a state senator, who brought the charges. As a result, Blaine admitted he had no information personally known by him to be true upon which to substantiate his charges. He admitted some charges were based largely on newspaper editorials, political speeches and hearsay.

"And upon such information, you were willing to make allegations which might jeopardize a United States senator and which, if proven true, might send him to the penitentiary. Is that true?" asked Senator W. B. Heyburn, the chairman.

To this question, Blaine made no answer other than he thought he was performing a public duty by having an investigation of what he said was current report. Blaine was on the witness stand practically all day. It was he who originally brought the charges in the Wisconsin legislature, where two investigations were held, one resulting favorably to the senator and one adversely.

Blaine's charges, purporting to give sixteen specific instances wherein the law had been violated, were first put to his nomination at the primaries in 1903. Senator Stephenson corruptly spent $107,793, to encompass his election. The first three of the charges pertained to the giving to E. A. Edmonds, a campaign manager, $4,000 in excess of $10,000, and appointing $250,000. It was developed that $107,793 was the correct amount. "How do you know this money was given to Edmonds to commit bribery and to accomplish other corrupt ends?" Blaine was asked.

"I had Edmonds' word that he received certain sums for campaign purposes. The words 'corrupting and bribing electors' were put in to meet the requirements of the law in making specific charges in such instances." The witness said he did not know of any Democrats to whom Stephenson's money was paid, nor did he know the charge was true. His charge that Stephenson's money was spent to purchase the editorial support of newspapers, Blaine said, was based on information given him by an editor at Lancaster, Wis., but the witness had no facts that any money was paid for such purpose.

Blaine's charge that Stephenson of Jereed Lester Tilton of Neillville, Wis., $500 to run for the assembly and if elected to vote for Stephenson for senator, was then read. Blaine said this charge was based upon what he had read of political speeches by Democratic candidates.

SHIP BURNS; MEN NARROWLY ESCAPE

SEATTLE, Wash., Oct. 10.—The 286-ton wooden steamer Perditia was burned to the water's edge today today by a fire from Port Ludlow. The twenty-one members of the crew and two passengers were obliged to leap overboard and cling to pieces of wreckage nearly an hour before launches picked them up. The Perditia was owned by the International Navigation Company and valued at $10,000 and plied between Seattle and Port Townsend, carrying freight and passengers for the small way ports. She took fire from escaping oil and in a short time the oil tank exploded.

ALL UNCERTAINTY IN M'NAMARA CASE

To Begin Today, But All Other Points Hazy; Separate Trials?

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 10.—Official uncertainty surrounded tonight every point of interest in the trial of the McNamara brothers, except the fact that so far as any one knows, it will begin tomorrow. Whether John J. McNamara, secretary of the International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers, will then be placed on trial for the murder in Los Angeles October 1, 1910, which cost twenty-one lives, or whether his brother James B. will face trial on identical indictments was not made known officially. Because District Attorney John D. Frederick said the defense still has the technical right to have both men stand trial together. Until the expressed preference for separate trials made a certainty, which probably will not be before court opens at 10 a. m., the prosecution will not announce which man it will try first. The popular belief and that of the defense is that James B. McNamara will be selected.

However, it falls out, Attorney Clarence S. Darrow, chief of counsel for the defense, said tonight, no effort to delay the beginning of the case will be made.

DON'T EXPECT NEW JUDGE.
DART "We shall ask for a change of judge," said Darrow. "We expect that it will be denied and then the trial will go ahead."

The McNamara brothers, chatting in the corridor of the jail, from which could be seen the yet unfinished hall of records in which the trial will be held, apparently expected no delay. "We've got to be ready," said John J. McNamara. "It doesn't make any difference to us which of us is tried first."

Both men, at the request of newspaper men were weighed and photographed today, and George Gallagher, the jailer, checked their present weights against those recorded when they entered April 25, the jail which they have not left since. James B. McNamara, who then weighed 137 pounds, now weighs 142 and his brother John has gone up from 206 to 217 pounds. John J. did the talking for both, asking many questions on his own account.

"What is the sentiment about this case?" was his first one, specifying different localities. Most of his other queries were about machinery for gathering and distributing news in which he seemed keenly interested.

GENERAL DIRECTIONS.

The plateau disturbance has now moved to the eastern slope of the Rocky mountains, with the center of low pressure over Montana. In its passage over the plateau it caused some heavy rain-falls in Idaho and Utah and strong westerly winds over Nevada and Utah. During the early forenoon yesterday a very abrupt rise in barometric pressure began along the Pacific slope resulting in a rapid clearing of the skies in California. Slightly lower temperatures in this state have resulted from the same cause, while the advance of high pressure over the plateau has caused very decided falls in temperature in Nevada and Utah, 34-hour falls of from 20 degrees to 34 degrees being reported. Mostly fair weather prevails east of the Rocky Mountains but some rain has fallen in the southern states and in the Ohio and Tennessee valleys.

The distribution of barometric pressure on the Pacific coast this morning assures fair weather for Fresno and vicinity during the next thirty-six hours, with higher temperature Wednesday.

NEW PATROLMAN IS

ASSIGNED TO DUTY

Hardly had B. A. Wickstrom, the new patrolman assigned his duties in police headquarters last night, when there was a call sent in from the corner of H and San Benito streets that a man had threatened to shoot another man. Patrolman Wickstrom and were sent out on the call but were unable to find the man. Two patrolmen reported the case to police headquarters but when the officers arrived on the scene the neighbors in that vicinity
denied all knowledge of any trouble.
Wickstrom is six feet in height and weighs 220 pounds. He is the second
"husky" to join the police force in the past four weeks.

FIRE DISCOVERED

ON GRAVEL ROOF

Fire caused from an over-heated
stove pipe was discovered late yesterday afternoon on the roof of the cement
house owned by F. Bader at the corner of T and Kern streets. A fire alarm was telephoned into fire headquarters
and a chemical was dispatched to the scene of the fire. The blaze was extinguished and the loss will only amount to about $25. No general alarm was turned in. The roof, which was covered with gravel, was burned brittle and it is likely that the residence would have been destroyed
had not the blaze been discovered before it got a good start.

FORMER FRESNO

making an attempt to locate relatives
and friends of Charles Owens, who was accidentally killed in the lumber flame
near Hume Sunday morning. Owens was crushed between the logs. He lived for an hour. It is understood that the deceased has a sister in Colorado and one in San Francisco but the deputy coroner at Sanger has been unable to locate the relatives. Owens formerly worked in Fresno and was well known here. He was 30 years of age.

WARRANTS FOR CONEJO
MEN MAY BE ISSUED

Five Men Said to Have Tormented Bull; Trouble
Brewing in Conejo.

Warrants for the arrest of Edward Joseph, Joe Flores, J. D. Penlon, Antonio De Barras and Sidney Harmon,
all of Conejo, on a charge of cruelty
to bull, will be requested of City
Justice Graham this morning by Henry Santen, humane officer of Conejo,
according to a statement made last night by William Harvey, Sr., secretary and manager of the Fresno County Humane Society. The cruelty is alleged to have taken place last Sunday afternoon in a pasture near Conejo
when a bull, which had been injured
by coming in contact with barbed wire,
was ridden and tormented by the above-mentioned men.

The riding of the bull is said to have been part of an entertainment which was held at Conejo Sunday under the auspices of the Taxpayers' League.
This league, according to the officer
of humane society, gives entertainments in Conejo and attracts the disorderly element from Selma and other towns to Conejo on the Sabbath. The Taxpayers' League is said to be running in opposition to the Women's Christian Temperance Union.
Members of the Taxpayers' League
held a feast Sunday noon in the Con-ejo town hall and then they adjourned
to the pasture owned by Sidney Harmon. Horse racing has held there and various sports and finally the bull was led into the field. The bull ran into the fence and cut several long gashes
in its side. It was then announced that for the entertainment of the crowd
the bull would be ridden. Henry Santen objected to this and said he had produced the penal code of the state of California and to have read to the crowd that it was a misdemeanor to torment an animal.

It is claimed that Attorney James Barras was present at the riding of the members of the Taxpayers' League
and that he interpreted the law differently and told the men to go ahead and ride the bull. While bleeding from the wounds, it is claimed that J. D.
Penlon rode the bull for several minutes. The animal is owned by Antonio De Barras.

Trouble between the two factions at Conejo has been brewing for some time, and this is not the first case
that has been brought before the notary of the court.

MANANITA CAMP OF THE WOODMEN

of the World met for its regular weekly
session in A. O. U. W. hall last night.
When a goodly number of the members were present. R. L. Lawrence, of Pasadena, who was operating upon
recently at a local sanitarium, was reported as having recovered sufficiently to be removed from same to a local hospital. Also reported that Wm. Jenkins, is very sick at the hospital and O. G.
Llewellyn, who lives at 3432 Tulare street, is very sick at present. One application was received and E. A. Carson was elected to membership. H. B.
Butcher, appointed by the managers to audit the books of former Clerk Jones,
made a lengthy written report of the finances of the camp, and recommended
some changes in the financial management. It was unanimously decided to accept the report and put in operation all said recommendations, same to be done in the immediate future. Head Banker Sunderland was present and read a letter from Head Consul L. B. Hook and the camp will be the next to every member. Past Head Consul
M. T. Moses, editor of the Pacific Woodman, is reported as in a very critical condition in San Francisco, and it is hoped he soon will be hale and hearty again. Talks were made by a great many.

CROWD PACKS CHURCH

AT REVIVAL MEETING

Rev. C. L. Beal Preaches
Election Sermon at North
Christian Church.

Last night was the second night of the revival services at the North Side Christian church and a large crowd
listened with deep interest to the sermon by Chas. Laurant Beal. The subject was "Vital Election." The speaker was urged, stated the speaker, by the fact that the special state election had been held during the day and the returns would be coming in during the night and the next few days.
He said in part: "California anxiously awaits the results of the election. Important amendments have been before the people and it remains to be seen how wisely they have been handled. But a far more important question is the one of our own election. Election means choice. The choosing of the right amendment is not a life
and death matter while the election of which I am speaking means salvation or destruction. God's decrees do not change.
He has said that whatsoever a man
sows he shall reap.
"A certain man some years ago elected
his life to business which resulted in his becoming miserly and unhappy.
Fiction between him and his children
finally made him feel he was not wanted and when a slight sickness
overtook him he had to hire a nurse to care for him. His family had become hard and miserly like himself and were waiting for the time when his property
would be sold and he would be left alone. He remembered then where he had fallen. To have accepted Jesus and followed the Master's example of loving and helping his fellow men he would have saved himself from much of his unhappiness and misery. He would have been a different people. They would have loved and honored him in his declining years. But he had elected the world and its selfish pleasures and his son went out to get that Judge who had that it was a matter for a counsel
to get through a needle's eye then for a rich man to enter into the kingdom of God.
"God gives every person the right to vote. The better nature says vote for service (love God and love his requests). The evil nature says it is easier to follow your own selfish way;
never mind the future; eat, drink and be merry for tomorrow you die. And the pathos of it all is that men who will not vote for a better man countless sorrow and we and to their families and friends heartaches and humiliation. Salvation comes from an election to God. Destruction awaits
all who elect to follow their own selfish plans.
E. L. Harrington sang "My Mother's Bible." Tonight the subject is "The Man, the Penknife, and the Bible." The musical service begins promptly at 7:30
each evening, and the meetings close before nine. Mrs. M. H. H. and E. L.
Harrington will sing a duet.

MONTEREY R. R. PROJECT
TO BE LOOKED INTO
BY COMMITTEE

Giffen Instructed to Name
Five at Meeting of Business Men.

White and Albrecht Render
Report of Work Done
Up to Present.

A committee of five, to be appointed by Wm. G. Giffen, president of the chamber of commerce will investigate
the progress of the work on the proposed Fresno, Coalinga and Monterey
railroad, today, took into the reports of the engineers and then suggest some
plan for financing the project.

This was the result of a meeting of business men held at the Chamber of Commerce yesterday morning to discuss the Monterey railroad project.
The motion for the appointment of a committee was made by Frank H.
Short and seconded by E. E. Manheim.
President Giffen announced that it will be three or four days before the committee is named. Upon the suggestion of T. C. White, president of the promotion company, however, no one who has been identified with the work that has already been done, will be appointed to membership on this committee.
The meeting yesterday was called by the Chamber of Commerce at the request of the Fresno Clearing House Association and there was a very good attendance, on the part of the business men who had been invited.
T. C. White brought the matter to the attention of those present by telling what had already been done in the way of promotion. Among the most important work done, he said was the establishment of a survey from Fresno
to Monterey and the securing of maps
and charts for between $29,000 and $40,000.
He also stated that the construction
of this line would undoubtedly mean that the Western Pacific will build from Stockton to Fresno to establish connection with the coasted of the state.

A. Albrecht, secretary of the promotion company made the assertion that the people of Hollister and Monterey stand ready to build from Monterey to Hollister, provided the Fresno people will build to Coalinga. If the people on each end build, he said there would be no difficulty to get money to close the gap. The estimated cost of each section is $1,000,000 and Albrecht added
that the people of Bakersfield stand ready to build from Bakersfield to
from their city to Monterey by way of Coalinga.

Unless there are some very large interests ready to subscribe, Frank H.
Short advised the issuance of bonds as the only practical way of building. He said he did not believe enough money
could be secured by popular stock subscription.
He sought to show that while there is no objection to people along the line
subscribing for stock, still building by any outside company of means would desire to assume its portion of the expense.

E. E. Manheim explained why the clearing house had called the meeting
by stating that the bankers, knowing nothing of railroad building and wished
to learn as much about the undertaking as possible.
In the course of the meeting reference was often made to the fact that the outside interests have expressed a willingness to build the road on a bonding proposition. Albrecht said that he had made many trips to Los Angeles and San Francisco recently to confer with men of capital.

AGED MAN ASKS TO BE LODGED IN JAIL

Staggering up to the jail door John Smith, an aged inmate of the county hospital, yesterday requested Jailer Kelly to lodge him in jail. The request was granted and now Smith is in the jail cell, looking unkempt. But this change is nothing new to the aged man as he probably has been arrested
more times than other two men in this county. According to old peace officers Smith has been in and out of the jail on drunkenness charges for the last 25 years. Years ago Smith was taken to court and sentenced to jail terms for
the offense, but the court formality is now laid aside. Smith is kept in jail
until he completely sobers up and then
he is returned to the county hospital.

BOTORFF ARRIVES

AT KANSAS CITY

Deputy Sheriff Oscar Botorff arrived
in Kansas City, Mo., yesterday afternoon and immediately notified Sheriff McSwain by wire. Botorff is in Missouri for the purpose of returning to this city W. E. Myers, who is wanted
here on a charge of embezzlement.
Myers was formerly cashier of the Kernan bank and is alleged to have embezzled a sum aggregating $30,000,
although the complaint charges him
with embezzling $30,000.
Botorff did not state in his telegram
how long he had been in Kansas City,
but it is presumed that if there were
anything wrong he would have notified
his superior officers. The extradition papers have been honored by Governor
Johnson, but before Botorff can return Myers to this state the papers must be signed by the governor of Missouri.
Botorff is out of the county in Kansas City and it is presumed that he will be in the interest of the Kernan people, who allege that they were humiliated by Myers.

LOST BOY FOUND BY

PATROLMAN CASTNER

Wandering away from his home at 2025 Mono street, little Edwin Davis,
aged 2 years, was yesterday afternoon
found at the corner of J and Mariposa streets by Patrolman Castner. The little boy was taken to police headquarters and later turned over to his mother, Jennie Davis, who lives at 2025 Mono street and who was toddling down J street and calling every woman that he met "mama." Finally the little boy called the patrolman
"da-da" and the officer after questioning him and finding that he was Castner brought the little boy home
and took him to police headquarters where Chief of Police Jones
allowed the lad to play with his son,
John, before he was turned over to his mother.

SPENDS DAUGHTER'S

SAVINGS; FINED $5

R. D. Moss, who in a drunken condition took his daughter's savings and purchased liquor, appeared before City
Justice Graham yesterday morning and pleaded guilty. He was fined $5 but told today this amount will be paid by his fine, as yesterday
was a legal holiday and he would have been unlawful for the court to accept the money as payment for a fine. The justice was Monday night called to the Moss residence by his young daughter who informed the officers that her father had taken her money and spent
it. Later the officers located Moss
and placed him in jail.
J. L. Penlon, who was arrested
yesterday morning on a misdemeanor charge, was released from the jail yesterday.

MODERN AWNINGS MAY
REPLACE WOODEN ONES

Committee Appointed By Merchants' Association
to Meet With Trustees.

If the present plans of the Merchants' Association materialize, the old wooden awnings will soon become a thing of the past and they will be replaced by modern awnings which can be raised and lowered. A resolution to this effect was passed last night at the meeting of the Merchants' Association and a committee consisting of
J. H. Wooden, H. Holland and J. E.
Fenger, was appointed to confer with the city trustees and attempt to have a city ordinance passed whereby all of the old awnings will have to be torn down. In discussing this action
the members stated that the wooden awnings were a hindrance to the fire department in case of a big fire and that people would be unable to jump
from the windows of the building into a life net.

Another objection was that the posts
were used for hitching purposes and in that manner the streets were blocked with rigs which were allowed to stand on the streets for hours. There were several other objections. It was suggested by one of the members that
the placing of electric lights at various intervals throughout the city be taken up with the city trustees and it was also mentioned that an investigation might be made and ascertain if the city lights were receiving the proper amount of electricity.

It was voted that the association
entertain the merchants of the various county towns at different intervals
when business relations could be discussed. All of the merchants from one county town will be invited to be present at the first meeting and this will be continued until every town
has been represented at a meeting of the Merchants' Association.

FAMILY REUNION
HELD AT DEL REY

Mr. and Mrs. Tyler Celebrate the Fortieth Anniversary of Their Marriage.

DEL REY, Oct. 10.—A reunion of the relatives and friends of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Tyler was held at Wilkinson's hall here Monday, the occasion
being the fortieth anniversary of their marriage. The assembly was a festive one, opened with happy introductory remarks by Rev. William Thomas of the Baptist church, of which the Tylers are members. After these words of greeting, Rev. J. C. Jordan, a brother-in-law of Mr. Tyler, read a poem. Mr. Jordan was the clergyman who performed the marriage ceremony
of forty years ago. The Misses Renfro sang a duet and the 125 guests got down to the feast prepared by the ladies. Music and games entertained the guests. Mr. and Mrs. Tyler were presented with a number of dishes
to mark the esteem in which they are held in the community in which they have lived for over thirty years. Their four sons and two daughters, with six grandchildren, were gathered about
the center table of three at the supper.

SOCIETY

Lloyd Griffith was host last night at a very smart dinner at the Hughes Cafe, complementing his sister, Miss Hazel Griffith, whose marriage to Walter Johnson of Turlock will occur this evening at St. James' Episcopal Church. Around the prettily appointed table, on which roses were effectively arranged, the jolly party were seated later adjourning to the Barton Opera House, where four boxes accommodated the guests, during the performance of "The Country Boy".

Among those who entered the affair were: Miss Virginia Collier, Miss Virginia Cleary, Miss Gladys Munson, Lieut. R. E. Goodrich, all of San Francisco, Miss Margaret Chatham, of Turlock, Miss Helen Day, of Honolulu (niece of Princess David Kahanawale), Dr. Geo. A. Hodges and Dr. P. N. Jacobson, both of Turlock, Miss Katherine Marsh, of San Francisco, Misses Pauline Griffith, Ruth Griffith and Margaret Griffith of Berkeley, and Miss Gladys Teague of Oakland, as bridesmaids.

The group will be supported by Lieut. R. E. Goodrich, of the San Francisco Presidio, as best man, and the ushers will be Messrs. Lloyd Griffith, Alfred H. McKean, Frederick B. Moore, and Donald W. Forsyth.

Proceeding the ceremony, vocal numbers will be given by Mrs. Don Pardee, Edna and Miss Virginia Cleary, of San Francisco. Rehearsals will be the officiating clergyman.

Mrs. S. H. Quinby and Mrs. Harry Green, who have been so charmingly entertained during their visit in Fresno, were at the dinner last night. Mrs. H. V. Rudy last night at her suburban home in Berkeley, but Mrs. Quinby will remain through the week.

The Wednesday Club will celebrate "California Day" at the home of Mrs. Ethel Abern on E street, and her sister club, the Leisure Hour, will meet with Mrs. George Cartwright to devote their time to "Measure for Measure" under Mrs. Miller's tutelage.

W. W. Barkdale leaves today for Memphis, Tennessee after a short but delightful visit with his daughter, Mrs. H. M. Johnston.

Ernestine Cline of St. Paul's M. E. Church, will hold the regular meeting this afternoon with Mrs. H. V. Arrington.

Miss Ruth Hayward of San Jose is the guest of her aunt, Mrs. K. A. Marsh, for a short while. Miss Hayward is the possessor of a very pleasing voice, and following the concert of John Phillip Sousa, she gave a "specimen program" for the march king, which met with her approval, considering her youth, and her splendid progress. Miss Hayward has a brilliant future.

A number of the out-of-school members of the Lambda Theta Phi sorority, held a jolly little reunion yesterday afternoon at the home of Miss Margaret Cory on E street, and decided to hold their meetings regularly throughout the winter.

With more time to devote to it than when attending school, their charitable work will again be taken up, and probably in co-operation with the recently formed Fresno Relief Society.

The Central Circle of the Christian Church will meet on Friday afternoon with Mrs. George Shishmanian on Orange Avenue. A business meeting will be held, and as the members will bring their lunch a jolly social time is expected.

The Baptist auxiliary held an important meeting yesterday afternoon at the church, all the annual reports being read, prominent among them being from the treasurer, who reported a surplus in the funds of the society from last year. An election of officers was held resulting as follows: President, Mrs. Otis Turner, First Vice President, Mrs. R. C. Avery, Second Vice President, Mrs. G. C. Copeland, Recording secretary, Mrs. W. H. W. Financial secretary, Mrs. J. S. Muir, Treasurer, Mrs. Wilson. Executive committee, Mrs. J. W. Conley and Mrs. H. C. Warner. The chairman for the different departments will be appointed. A social hour concluded the meeting.

The Whatsoever Circle of the First Presbyterian church will meet with Mrs. H. J. Austin at 1 and San Joaquin streets today at 2:30.

easily grasp the meaning of things than they can at present.

"That means a great deal to the child, and it is a most interesting part of the histories we teach in our schools could be made a delight to the child by means of the method used.

"Treaties and such matters are always the most difficult part of history to teach, and they should also fall to interest the very young student. But there is no child that cannot take an interest in a political subject if it is presented in a way that will not be so very difficult to make the child take as much interest in the courage of the men who made the famous figures of those battles were brought before him as living or, at least, acting beings through the medium of pictures.

"Lincoln's life could not fail to be even more interesting than ever were the child to be shown moving pictures got up to represent the days when the great emancipator toured the country preaching the doctrine of equality.

"The voyages of the great explorers could be depicted and the child given a vivid idea of the past, the great migrations of the past. The founding of Chicago would give an impression that would last of the courage of the men who began at the beginning of the city which now is second on the new continent. The story of the men who were the first of the great West who are now here names to many of the children would be introduced to the pupils as they were in real life."

"What about the wars of the old world, about the great revolutions, the wars of the Crusades, for instance?"

"The deeds and characters made famous by Tasso's great work, The Gerusalemme liberata, for instance. Should we not be only of the deepest interest and of the utmost value from an educational standpoint? They should never be left to the children of the eleventh century as they could not hope to see it or learn it from reading about it alone."

"But it is a long time when the pictures of the famous events of the past can be made cheap enough for use in the schools, they should not be so singular part of the course in history."

"History properly illustrated would be the most entrancing subject that could be placed before the child. It would be one that would require but little teaching, for the child would be only too eager to learn the history of the famous events after seeing the pictures."

"Then, if the films could be used for illustrating history, would they not be used in the teaching of literature?" was ventured.

"Not so much as in history," said the speaker, "but they would be of immense value as a field in which the moving pictures would be of most value. But even in literature, the pictures would be of great value for the characters and the costumes of the past could be vividly brought before the child."

"Then the moving pictures seemed bound to be used more or less in our scheme of education. We have only begun to see its value. It will take time, as did every other innovation in our systems, but nevertheless it is a large and a noble thing to do.

There have been some marvelous changes in the last fifty years. Who can tell what the next fifty will bring forth?

It was with an idea that they would be of great educational value and therefore of interest to the public, that the first of these famous works, "The Crusades of Jerusalem Delivered" were made. The masterpiece of the Italian poet supplied the romance as well as the historical facts. The story connected story of the grandest upheaval of the Middle Ages and it was so made that one could see the educator on the moving picture stage would tell not only the wonderful story of the Crusades but supply a picture of the life and the interest all the way through.

—But the manufacture of these pictures could not be undertaken on a small scale. They had to be made on a large scale. They were made for the purpose for which they were being made. It was necessary to get the very atmosphere in which the scenes of the Crusades were enacted. No modern landscapes would do. No modern ruins could be made to appear just like the original.

Consequently, the manufacturers of these pictures acquired an old-world setting. The scenes had to be natural. In fact, many pictures would have to be taken in the very places where the deeds of the past were enacted.

For this reason Rome, the Eternal City, was chosen. There was every-

For this reason Rome, the Eternal City, was the place where was everything needful for the proper production of the piece. Actors, the best music, the most magnificent scenery, in great numbers for the Italian people naturally take to a heroic drama. They have the fire and the life of the romantic and the heroic lifelike. They have the natural art that can turn them back into beings of the Middle Ages.

The characters of Tasso's famous piece were chosen from among the best moving picture artists in Italy and their rendition of the work was superb.

One can see the whole Crusade era presented through all the wonderful scenes which took place in the closing days of the eleventh century. One could see the king of France, Louis VII, surrounded by his knights and retainers, receive the appointment of the pope to be the ruler of the thousands of thousands going to win the Holy City from the infidel without being deeply interested. The first scene of the piece is the march of the thousands of knights and leaders of the nations assembled gladly yielding up first place to the good and noble king of France, who is the first to go to the good for his deeds of arms.

In another of the pictures Sophronia, the heroine, is shown sacrificing herself to save her people from the wrath of the terrible Arab ruler of Jerusalem. Another picture shows the king of France, Louis VII, showing the terrible death to which she was condemned by the Sultan by another woman, the heroine of the Arab.

Then, as the story progresses, Armida is shown persuading Godfrey to help her to regain her kingdom and the throne of the kingdom of Jerusalem, the capture of the Holy City.

Again, Raymond, the hero of the piece, is shown in a picture of the most important need to rejoin the Crusaders and aid them to the conquest of which they have vowed their lives.

One can see the scene of the burning of the picture that burned in Tasso's brain is faithfully reproduced in the colors and movements of life. Even the costumes of those who went forth from western Europe to wrest the Holy Sepulcher from the followers of the prophet.

With the constant chattering of the production of moving pictures and the beautiful scenery, the work is in large towns and cities will not be such a difficult matter. The machines as they are now are seen in the production of the work. The work of a great event in history had been produced reproductions would not be so difficult. The work of a great event in history had been produced reproductions would not be so difficult. The work of a great event in history had been produced reproductions would not be so difficult.

STORMY DAYS IN DIXIE.

Former Governor Warmouth Talks the Louisiana of Reconstruction Days.

"Henry Clay Warmouth, who was governor of Louisiana in reconstruction days at the Waldorf, told the former governor as he stood about the lobby you would not have been able to realize that the term dated back to 1865-72."

It was while serving as lieutenant colonel of a Missouri regiment during the war that Governor Warmouth slipped out the land down there and that it was fair, though he was a Hoosier. So highly did he think Louisiana that when the war over he went down the Mississippi as it was then called, to the shore, and was soon running the governor.

"Those elections were fairly good said Governor Warmouth. "Gen-

"You may not know it, but there was a large population of free negroes in Louisiana before the war. A great many of them were slaveholders, and not a few had been abroad and had received a good education in France. The colored population of Louisiana was then larger than the white population."

"We didn't have the KKK in Louisiana during my administration; we had the Ku Klux Klan of the White Camellia, which organization was very strong and successful in overthrowing the state government in 1874. They had no further effect."

COLUMBUS HOBSON ENTERS CAR IN BIG RACE

Fresno Man Puts in Warren-Detroit; Endurance Run to Start Today.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 10.—Final arrangements were made at noon yesterday for the first automobile endurance run from this city to Los Angeles and return. At a meeting of the officers of the Good Roads Club and many of the entrants, held at noon, the finishing touches were put upon the program, and at 7 o'clock tomorrow morning the cars will check out from Van Ness avenue and start on their 1000-mile journey to the southern metropolis, and back again. The downward trip will be made by the coast road, while the return will be through the valleys.

It appears that there will be quite a respectable entry list, after all. Thirteen cars so far are definitely lined up for the run, as follows:

VERNON FAVORED

In stacking up against their opponents this week Vernon appears to have the best of the argument in meeting Oakland while the Beavers tackle the Angels. The records of the series so far this season show that Vernon has beaten the Oaks twenty times and have lost but fourteen, while Portland has the edge on Los Angeles by winning seventeen and losing fifteen. Does M. Spell Success for the Giants?

McGraw McGraw leads the list of six members of his team whose name begins with M, and the question is to all superstitious baseball players, does this M spell victory or failure? The six M's are McGraw, Meyers, Marquard, Mathewson, Merkle and Murray.

McGraw maintains that M means might and that his mainstay will surely win the pennant for the Giants. Connie Mack says that his men are to make money out of his National League opponents.

FRESNO HIGH PLANS TO HAVE RUGBY FIFTEEN

Failure to Get Into Central League Does Not Discourage School.

At a big football rally, held at the Fresno High School yesterday afternoon, it was decided to go on with the rugby team. The boys of the school turned out en masse and voted unanimously to put a rugby fifteen into the field this fall and winter. One of the managers, told the students how Fresno High had been turned down by the Central California League and said that although some of the southern valley schools might want to play Fresno, he would not look for any dates with them. However, he promised to get games with schools from around the city. It was announced yesterday that the girls' basketball team at the Normal is practicing daily and it is evident that a fast team will be turned out.

TOUGH FOR ATHLETICS.

NEW YORK, Oct. 10.—Some of the best athletes now in training in the country will be heard from the American Olympic team because they are not American citizens. According to the latest Olympic rules, only native born athletes or those who are fully naturalized are eligible to represent the country they wish to compete for. Because of this rule, Dan Ahern, Tim Ahern and Con Walsh, among others, are ineligible.

VANDERBILT A WINNER.

PARIS, Oct. 10.—The Prix de Selme, a race of 1000 meters, given for the benefit of the French Red Cross, was won by W. K. Vanderbilt's Monrovia, Frank A. Gould's Jarrettier came in second.

NEW YORK GIANTS' OUTFIELD

Left to right: Snodgrass, Devore, Murray and Becker.

NEW YORK CITY, Oct. 10.—In the approaching world's series, the outfield will play an important part in this department. New York is "naturally" strong in the heavy-hitting line average men. This work will be left to the famous combination of Snodgrass, Devore, Murray and Becker.

MOTHER TRUE TO MURDERER.

TERRE HAUTE, Ind., Oct. 10.—The mother of a murderer, a thousand times over, he would still be a son. He could not enter a crime so black that it would stain him.

WALSH NOT PAROLED.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 10.—Department of Justice officials today declined to discuss the case of John R. Walsh, the Chicago racketeer, beyond the statement that he was not true that Walsh had been paroled. This denial was made emphatically, but the announcement of the status of the case was not

SUFFRAGE WINS IN FRESNO CO.

Direct Legislation Amendments and Recall Receive Overwhelming Support

By 76 votes, Fresno city went against woman suffrage at yesterday's election. The more militant country vote for it, and "the cause" has carried Fresno county as a whole.

Proposed amendments granting railroad passes to officials of the Railroad Commission and exempting war veterans from taxation also received Fresno's disapproval.

All the other amendments carried in both city and county. The direct legislation amendments and the Railroad Commission group carried strong. The initiative and referendum amendment and the recall amendment each won out in the city by nearly 1000 majority, about a three to one vote, and still stronger in the county at large.

The justice court amendment, against which a hard fight was made by incumbent justices, carried in the city by 155 votes. Some country precincts show the effect of activity of justices against it, but it seems to have been adopted locally.

An early analysis of the vote shows that the electors generally used intelligence, rather than emotion, in the utterly unintelligent ballot. The prediction of wholesale voting against all the amendments through sheer despair of understanding them was not borne out. The important or questionable amendments received either a light vote or were defeated. The related amendments, the direct legislation group and the railroad group were voted for together.

The vote on suffrage was close and, of course, it was a proposition in which sentiment rather than intelligence figured. Perhaps the most important vote was over held in Fresno attended by less outward signs of interest. Apparently there was no organized opposition to any of the amendments, and the local suffragettes made an active fight to carry the day. Automobiles were conspicuous with signs "Votes for Women" and pennants flying. A number of women workers were at the polls and with cards and smiles and arguments urged the voters to give them a right to participate in the government. There were a number of arguments, in which the women had the last word, but the men the last vote.

On suffrage the voting was erratic. In some of the best residence precincts, the vote went against suffrage, while in others where little had been hoped for, a better showing was made. Some of the smaller towns, like Malaga, went against suffrage, while others, like Coalinga, distinguished themselves for gallantry.

While the vote at a whole was light, as compared with that cast when candidates are running, it was heavy as compared with a bond election, for instance. Also considering the fact that there was no organization to bring out to vote, the showing made is not a bad one. When the political parties and candidates exert every effort to bring voters to the polls, about 80 per cent of the registration gets into the ballot box. In this election it is estimated that the vote will run about 40 per cent.

Here is the total vote of the city:

REPORT ALL READY FOR SEVENTH ANNUAL REAL ESTATE CONVENTION

W. E. G. Saunders Will Tell of National Association Exchanges.

New Tax Law and Other Important Subjects Will Be Discussed.

All is in readiness for the seventh annual convention of the California State Realty Federation at San Francisco, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of this week, and from the reports from all points in California there will be a record breaking attendance of real estate men in San Francisco for the meeting.

The convention will be called to order at the Palace Hotel in the ballroom, where the meetings will be held, at 10 o'clock Wednesday morning, following a meeting of the board of directors, President J. E. Fisher of San Jose will preside, and following his call for order George D. Toy, president of the San Francisco Real Estate Board will address the delegates, welcoming them to San Francisco. Reports of officers, including those of President Fisher, Executive Secretary L. M. Pratt of Los Angeles and Field Secretary James G. Stafford of Los Angeles. A committee on credentials will also be appointed, following which the convention will adjourn until 2 o'clock.

In the interim the visitors will be given an automobile ride throughout the city and surrounding country, district, and will again meet for the consideration of the many serious business matters to come before the convention. The principal addresses of the afternoon will be on the following subjects:

Local Tax Bureaus, Their Field of Usefulness, and the Value of Their Service to the Property Owners.—Mark L. Requa, president of the Tax Association of Alameda county.

Conventions: The Benefits Derived by Cities Where They Are Held.—W. L. Fringle, President of the San Francisco Convention League.

Operation of the New Tax Law.—J. F. Santori, president of the Security Savings Bank of Los Angeles.

Abuses and Remedies of the New State Tax Law.—Alexander Brown, formerly chairman of the State Board of Equalization.

National Association of Real Estate Exchanges.—W. E. G. Saunders, Fresno, Directors of the National Association, Immigration and Colonization.—C. E. Wainwright, representing the Colonization Department of the Southern Pacific railroad.

Discussion also will come up on the Unlawful Detainer Law, Licensing the Real Estate Man, and the Tenement House Law. J. L. Craig of Stockton will also address a paper on Irrigation Districts of California, dealing with the recently passed law to handle such matters.

Undoubtedly this program and the other matters which will come up will necessitate the holding of a night session—Wednesday to "clear" away the work. On the following day the convention will be called to order at 10 o'clock, and the morning will be given over to a program, the principal features of which will be as follows:

Panama-Pacific Exposition, address by Frank L. Brown, chairman of the Publicity Committee of the exposition company.

Roads and Realty, Ruts and Remedies, is the alliterated subject title under which Herbert Burdett, the first secretary of the California State Realty Association, will address the meeting.

Real Estate Advertising, by G. C. Barnhart of the Realty Syndicate of Oakland, will hold the close attention of the delegates.

Resumption of the convention business will follow. Reports of committee, etc., following which will be the nomination and election of officers and directors, and the adjournment of the convention.

BANQUET THURSDAY EVENING.
Thursday evening will be given over entirely to the banquet at the St. Francis Hotel, and this will without doubt be the most pretentious yet held in honor of any Federation Convention, and will rival that to be tendered President Taft on the following night at the Palace Hotel. An elaborate program has been arranged under the supervision of Samuel F. Buckbee, chairman of the banquet committee, and the entertainment will be a surprise, and the speakers and vaudeville features will draw the best talent in California to the tables. Applications for seats at the tables have been flooding the offices of the San Francisco Real Estate Board, and from all indications this banquet will be one of the most remarkable events ever held in San Francisco.

McMAHAN TO ENTERTAIN.
All day Friday the visitors and delegates, together with wives, sweethearts, will play and be entertained by Mahary McMahon, the San Francisco representative of the board of directors of the Federation, with a business breakfast at Santa Venetia, near San Rafael.

The party will leave the Jackson street wharf at 9:30 o'clock, arriving at Santa Venetia about 10:20. This is a beautifully situated section in Marin county, near San Rafael, and is being improved by Mr. McMahon's city on canals, resulting in heavy water traffic and other features of the Italian and European home places. The party will take the trails over a heavily wooded country, horses and burros being provided for all. The entire country has been arranged for just such excursions, and after attaining an elevation of more than 1,000 feet, the party will wander back to the landing place for the breakfast at 12:30. This will be a carefully prepared affair in true '49 style, and will be provided for between 200 and 250 guests. The afternoon will be given over to boating and swimming races and various exhibition work. The party will return to San Francisco at 6 o'clock.

Friday evening will be given over to "seeing" San Francisco at night, and no doubt all the visitors will avail themselves of this opportunity.

The ground breaking exercises of the Panama-Pacific Exposition on Monday morning will occupy the attention of all those remaining over night, and prove a brilliant ending for the Federation Convention.

RETAIL CLERKS WANT SHORTER WORKING DAY

Nine Merchants Sign Petition for 8 O'clock Closing Saturdays.

A petition formulated by the Retail Clerks' Union and endorsed by the Building Trades and Labor Councils of Fresno is being circulated among the merchants in an effort to get new opening and closing hours for the downtown stores. The new hours are 8 o'clock in the morning to 6 in the evening with 8 o'clock closing on Saturday nights. Incorporated in the petition is a clause permitting the merchants to keep their stores open each night till 8 o'clock during the week preceding Christmas.

The new petition was circulated yesterday for the first time and nine signatures were secured by T. C. Vickers and J. B. Endert, representing the two labor councils. The signatures obtained yesterday are those of nine business men who conduct small clothing stores. The department stores have not been approached with the petition as yet, but members of the Retail Clerks' union are confident the majority will sign the petition.
